Vadim passed away suddenly, and unexpectedly just prior to reaching his 50th birthday. A dear son, brother, uncle, nephew, business partner and friend. Vadim had lasting presence in the lives of everyone he knew. He had immense love for his family. His love for those in his life was without question and he showed it both in word and deed. It was rare to hear a complaint from him, and he worked tirelessly to care for and support family members and those who relied on him. He would want those who he's left behind to lean on one another in times like this, and in times of need. There is a great deal of humility and joy that can be learned from Vadim's example in the way he lived his life, and the way he treated others. He will live on in our hearts forever.

Vadim was the only son of Vladimir and Zhanna Savelyev. Their hearts ache and weep for the loss of their son. Vadim's father is heartbroken, and this loss has left him feeling that life no longer has meaning. Every day is a struggle for him to face the fact that he is not coming back. His light went out too soon laying heavy on his soul, and it is difficult to come to terms with the fact that he is no longer with us.
